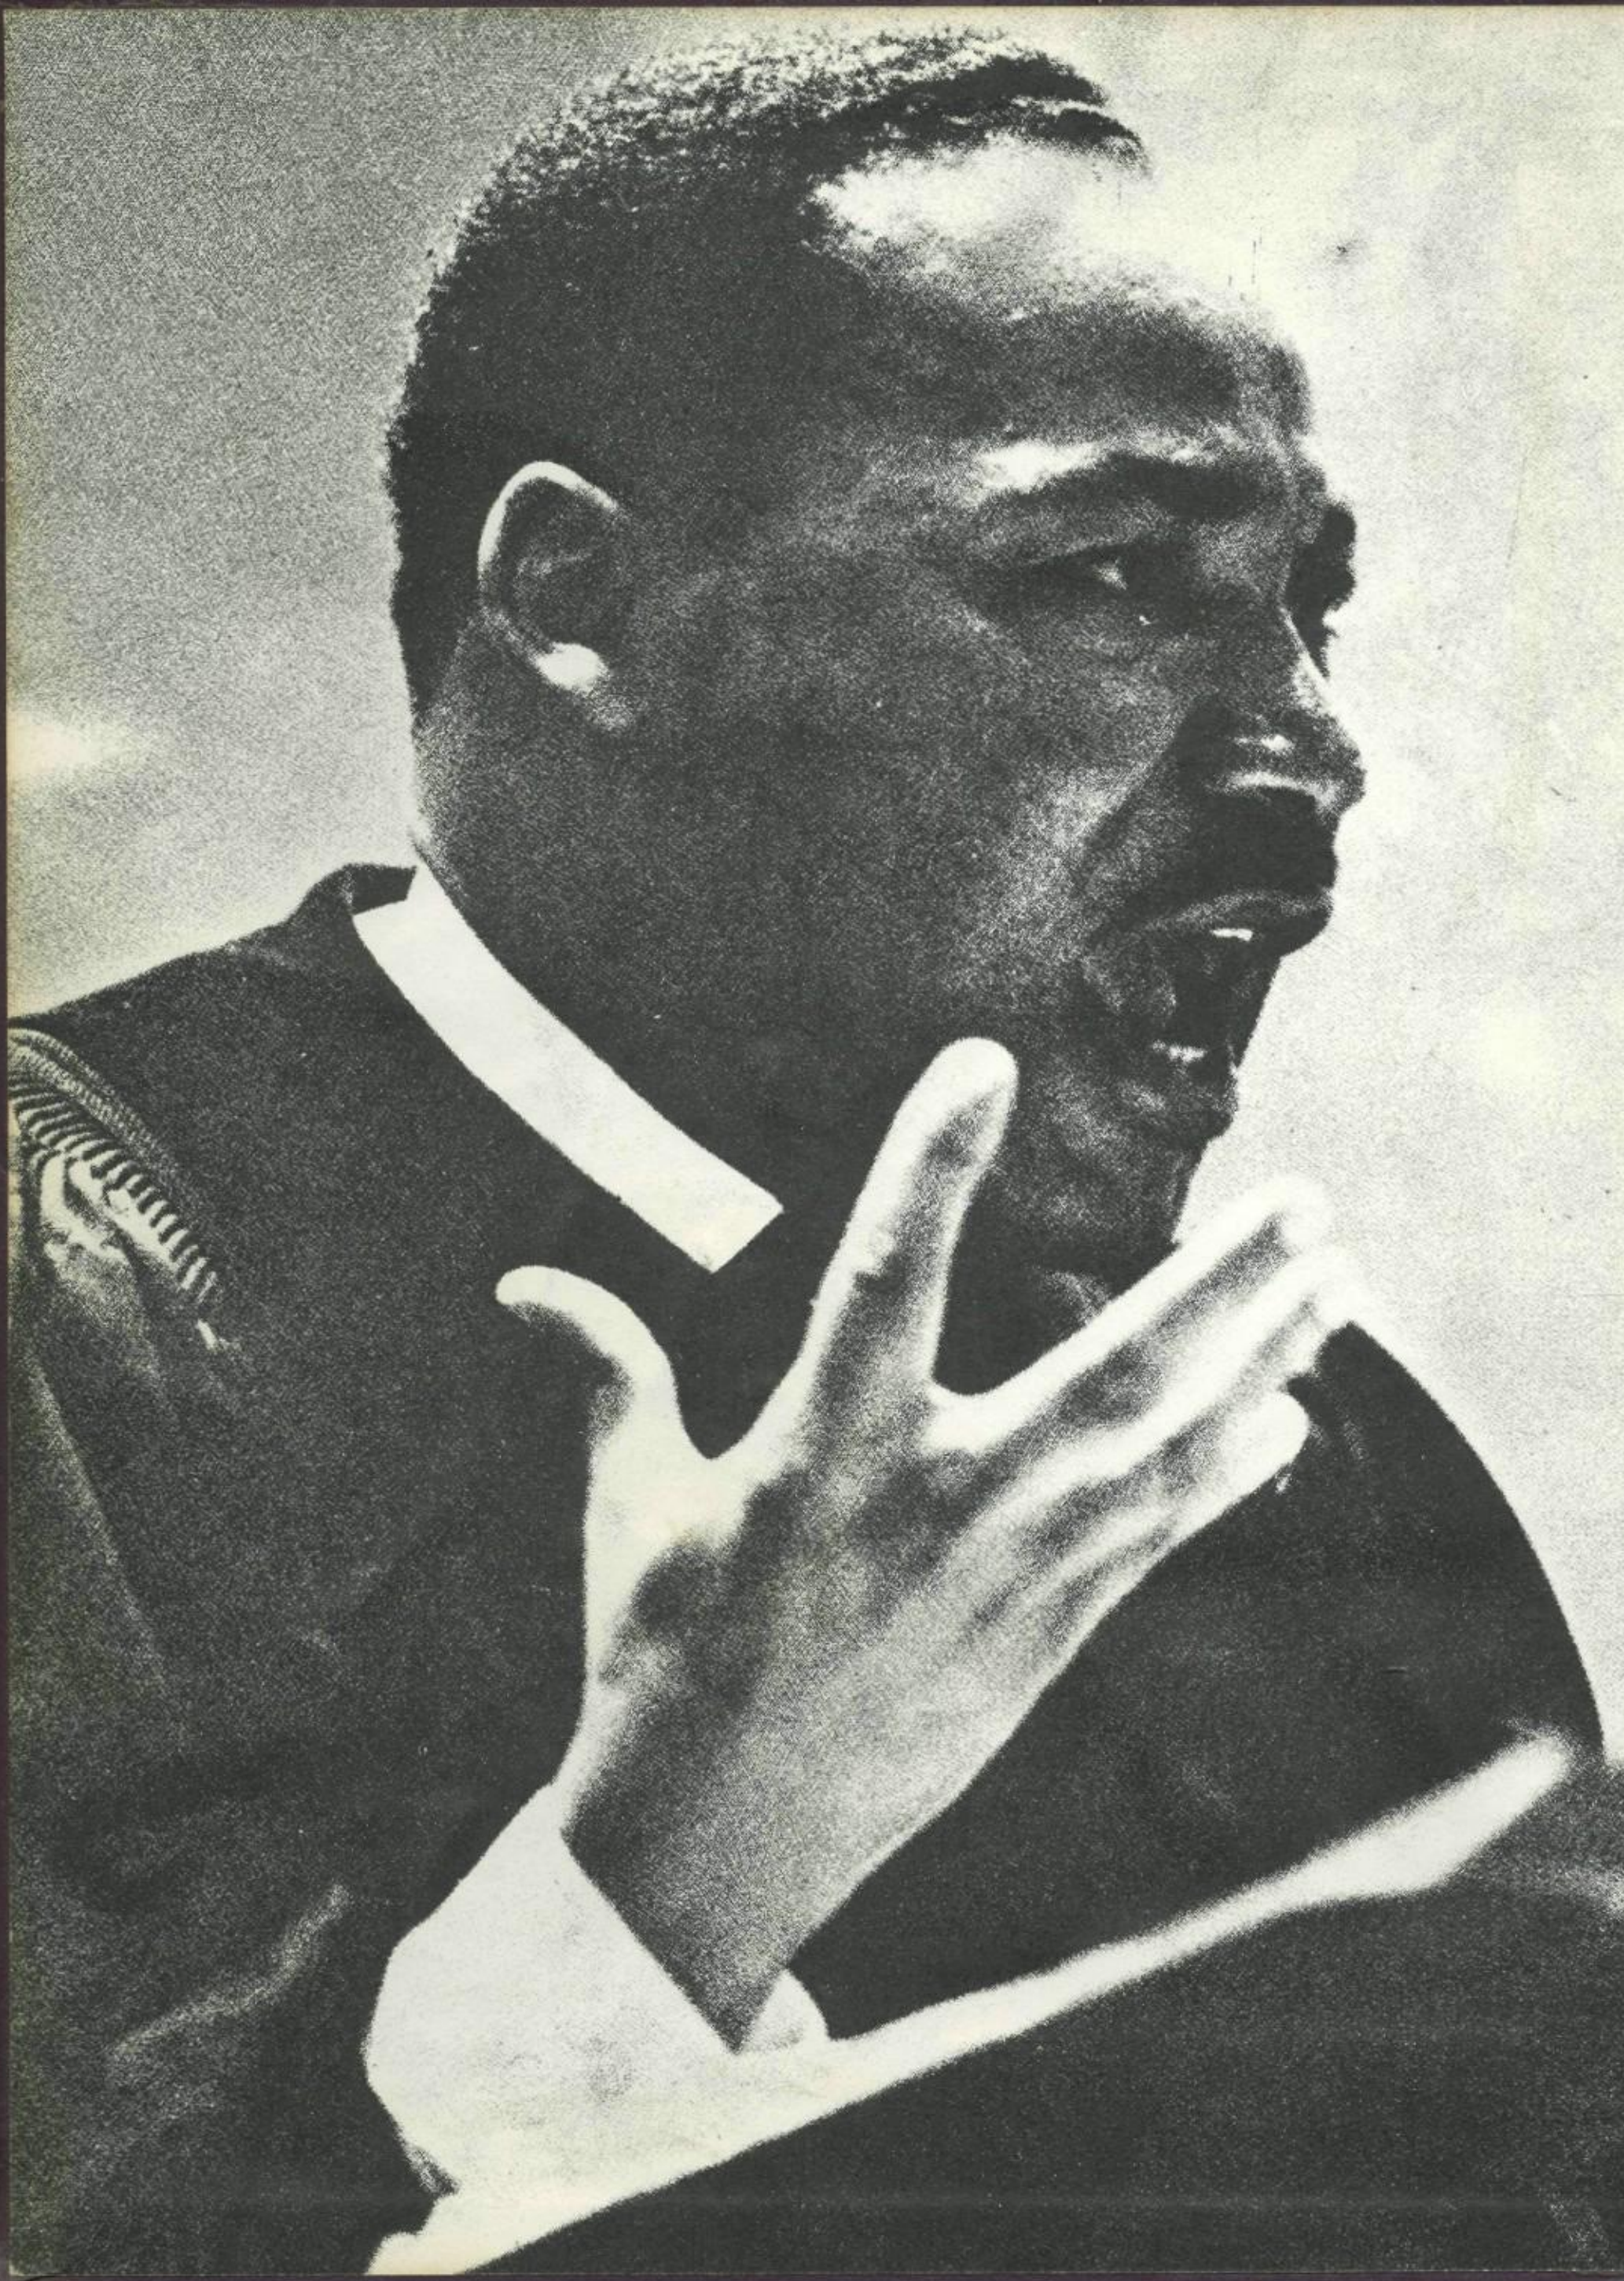
First Graduating Class

WILLIAM E. CLARK



I have the audacity to believe that peoples everywhere can have three meals a day for their tired bodies, education and culture for their minds, and dignity, equality and freedom for their spirits. I believe that what self-centered men have torn down, men other-centered can build up. I still believe that one day mankind will bow before the altars of God and be crowned triumphant over war and bloodshed, and nonviolent redemptive goodwill will proclaim the rule of the land. "And the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and every man shall sit under his own vine and fig tree and none shall be afraid." I still believe that we shall overcome.

Acceptance of 1964 Nobel Peace Prize, Oslo, Norway
(New York Times, December 11, 1964)

I have the audacity to believe . . . that peoples everywhere can have . . . equality and freedom for their spirits."

Dr. Martin Luther King's family enhanced his world.

His keen insight into the human spirit, and his care and concern for children everywhere emanated from the beauty he saw in the human family.

His legacy to us is the worth and the beauty of each family.

His dream ... that we strive to uphold, the concept of family as one of unity ... togetherness.

We, the senior class of '77, dedicate this, our LEGACY, with honor, deepest respect, and gratitude to the family of Dr. King.

LEGACY OF A DREAM

The words .... "I have a dream" .... echoed across this great country of ours ... one August day ... from the depths of the Nation's capital ... when most of us were only four years old.

Those words fraught with destiny ... and hope ... and promise epitomized the life of Martin Luther King Jr., for each act of his bore the seed of that dream

To dare to climb .....
To dare to uplift ....
To dare to hope for freedom, equality and brotherhood for all.

The building ... to which we've come to learn ... each day ... bears this great man's name.

The building ... a huge structure of steel girders and brick and mortar ... serves to immortalize his name.

We ... the class of 1977 ... have chosen to immortalize his spirit.

For the legacy of his dream ... inspires us to reach toward the heavens with one hand ...

As we climb ... charting our way to his mountaintop ...
Ever reaching back ... with the other hand to grasp another ... moving on ... moving up ...

This is our destiny ... our hope ... our promise

This is our responsibility

This is the legacy of a dream.

Martin Luther King Jr.

TO THE CLASS OF 1977

"We must remember that intelligence is not enough. Intelligence plus character - that is the true goal of education."

As you go your separate ways, I hope that your education at Martin Luther King High School has given you the basic foundation to move on to new and satisfying horizons.

As the first graduating class, you have set a fine example for future students to follow. Your accomplishments and sense of commitment will serve as models for them to continue to build the positive image that this school so richly deserves.

To each of you, I wish happiness, good health, prosperity and success and as you fulfill your dreams, I hope that you will always remember the pledge that I read to you your very first year at King. This pledge was submitted through the combined efforts of the pupils from the Emlen Elementary School and is as follows:

"I believe love, truth, justice, mercy and peace can shape the destiny of our land.
I believe that all people must count equally or none will count for very much before long.
I will search my own heart that I may live not to myself but to my neighbor in love.
I will speak out for love, truth, justice, mercy and peace in my home, my school, my community and my country even when it means speaking out alone."

GODSPEED!

Louis E. DeVicaris

VICE PRINCIPALS

Mr. Basham:

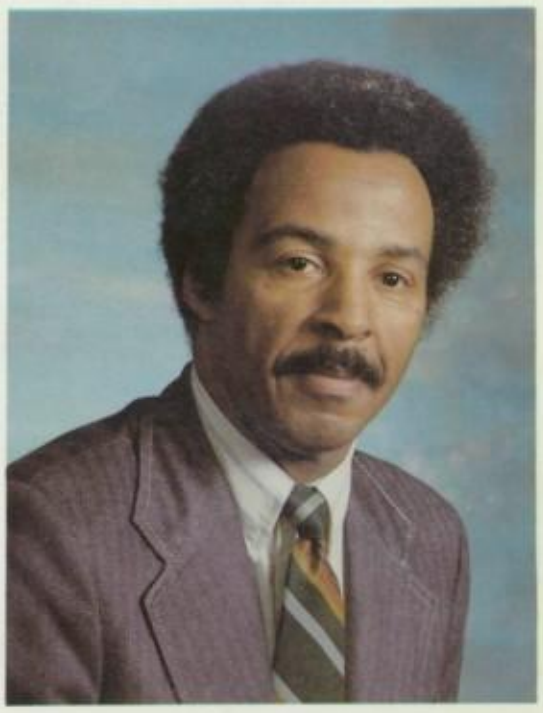
A legacy of commitment .... Tall "cool" Bash .... Surveying the neighborhood for opportunities for King students .... collaring the rascals .... identifying the scholars .... admonishing .... rapping with fathers .... pleading with brothers .... everywhere .... always quietly vigilant .... watching .... hopeful!

Mr. Clyde O. Basham

Mr. Showell:

A legacy of student involvement .... After four years of involvement with the class of 1977 in .... student elections .... induction ceremonies .... awards programs ... school shows ... casual dances .... class trips .... candy sales .... semi-formals .... and junior and senior proms; and remembering the joys you brought to my office .... the horrible hoagie odors ... the tear stained tissues .... the coats in the chairs .... the surprise lock-outs ... I can only say goodbye .... good luck .... and thanks for four extremely beautiful years ....

Dr. Keith Rose



Mr. Charles H. Showell, Jr.

Mr.Patrick Taggart

Dr. Rose:

A legacy of law and order .... Hall sweeps .... quiet halls .... chronic cutters .... suspensions .... lots of security personnel .... vigilant NTA's .... a Discilpine Committee .... a Student Patrol ... Hall Guards .... stairwells .... no gang fights .... no assaults ....

Mr. Taggart:

A legacy of organization .... a tactical field commander .... students admitted .... students dropped .... class ranks .... computed class averages .... assembly schedules .... loud speaker announcements .... rosters .... transcripts .... logistics of class movements .... A school running like a well oiled machine ....

DIPLOMA

THE CLASS OF 1977

The Class of '77 leaves a legacy of innovative leadership, different ... upbeat .... avant garde offering new approaches to old, old problems .... leading King's pioneer class to the top to claim its "Number One" status. Their Sponsor organizing a network of bee-like committees .... their officers encouraging .... suggesting .... amending. To be remembered .... always .... a legacy of pride .... of beauty .... of work.

"We've come this far by faith", ... are the words of an old spiritual. These words seem to epitomize the experiences we've had together for the past year and a half.

It's been a wonderful struggle ..... blazing a trail.

The excitement and pride of being the first class was often submerged by the moments of doubt and bewilderment .. as we attempted the new ... the unfamiliar.

But we labored and laughed and learned ... and in the process grew very close.

There will never be another class of '77.
There will never be another YOU.

Emerging as number One .... triumphantly .... has made each of us a victor.

But ..... it is to our Glorious School .... Martin Luther King High ... that we owe the victory.

With sincerity

SENIORS

The Class of 1978 has accepted the challenge of Martin Luther King Jr.'s legacy: "Even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow .... still have a dream .... a dream deeply rooted in the American dream."

Ms. Byron

Mrs. Cavaliari

The Class of 1979 aspires toward the legacy of his words: "I have a dream that one day this Nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creeds". They will produce the leaders to assist in realization of this dream.

The Class of 1980 "faces the rising sun of a new day begun" and aspires to the essence of Martin Luther King's Dream when he says, "We must forever continue our struggle on the high plane of dignity and discipline."

What is the newspaper?
It's deadlines to be met, stories to cover, ferreting out information; it's typing to be done, copy to be pasted up; dummies and pages to be laid out. It's stencils to be run and headlines to be written. It's confusion and excitement and fascination. It's learning.

But most of all . . . it's fun.

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING

Lift every voice and sing
'Til earth and heaven ring
Ring with the harmony
Of Liberty.
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the listening skies
Let it resound
Loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song
Full of the faith that the dark past has taught us
Sing a song
Full of the hope that the present has brought us
Facing the rising sun
Of our new day begun
Let us march on 'til victory is won.

After having completed a successful non-League season in 1975 with just Sophomores and Juniors, much was expected of us for our formal entrance into the Philadelphia Public League in 1976. Unfortunately, we did not live up to those expectations! However, it was not a lack of effort on the part of the players but simply a meeting of other teams in the tough Northern Division who were better prepared than we were.

Most times when a team loses week after week for 4 consecutive weeks as we did, much dissention arises within

L-R: 1ST ROW- J. Monday, C. Carter, C. Lewis, M. Rothmaller, B. Burrows, G. McDonald, B. Norris, D. Clark, A. Minson; 2ND ROW- M. Davis, R. Eagleton, E. Blake, K. Richardson, D. Simmons, J. that team. That did not happen with the Golden Cougars of 1976. In fact they pulled even closer together and worked twice as hard, determined to achieve success.

We, as a team, want to thank all of the people who supported us to the end. Your support through all our adversity was greatly appreciated. I especially want to thank each and every Senior for hanging in there and not quitting. Although we did not win many games in this last year of your high school career, you never gave up which

AWARENESS

Can't you see the black boy standing,
In the brightfulness of day?
I can see him oh so clearly,
Standing there by freedom's way.
What! You say you still can't find him?!
Can't you see with all this light?!
If you'd move you might see better,
You're still standing in the night!

Germaine Harding

GRADUATION PLANS

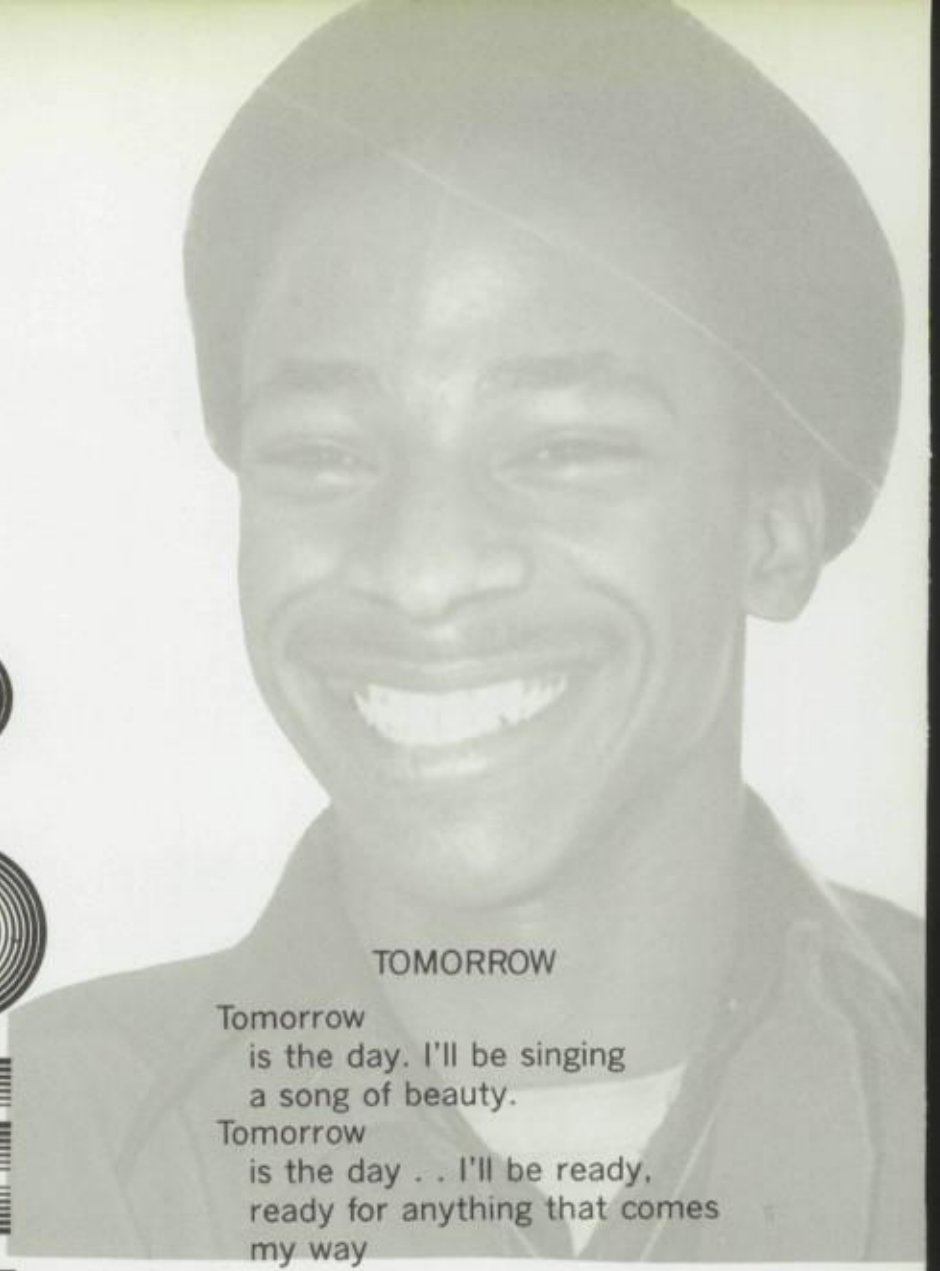
POETRY



TOMORROW

Tomorrow
  is the day. I'll be singing a song of beauty.
Tomorrow
  is the day . . I'll be ready, ready for anything that comes my way
Tomorrow
  is the day that comes after today which is the day I'll be getting ready for tomorrow.

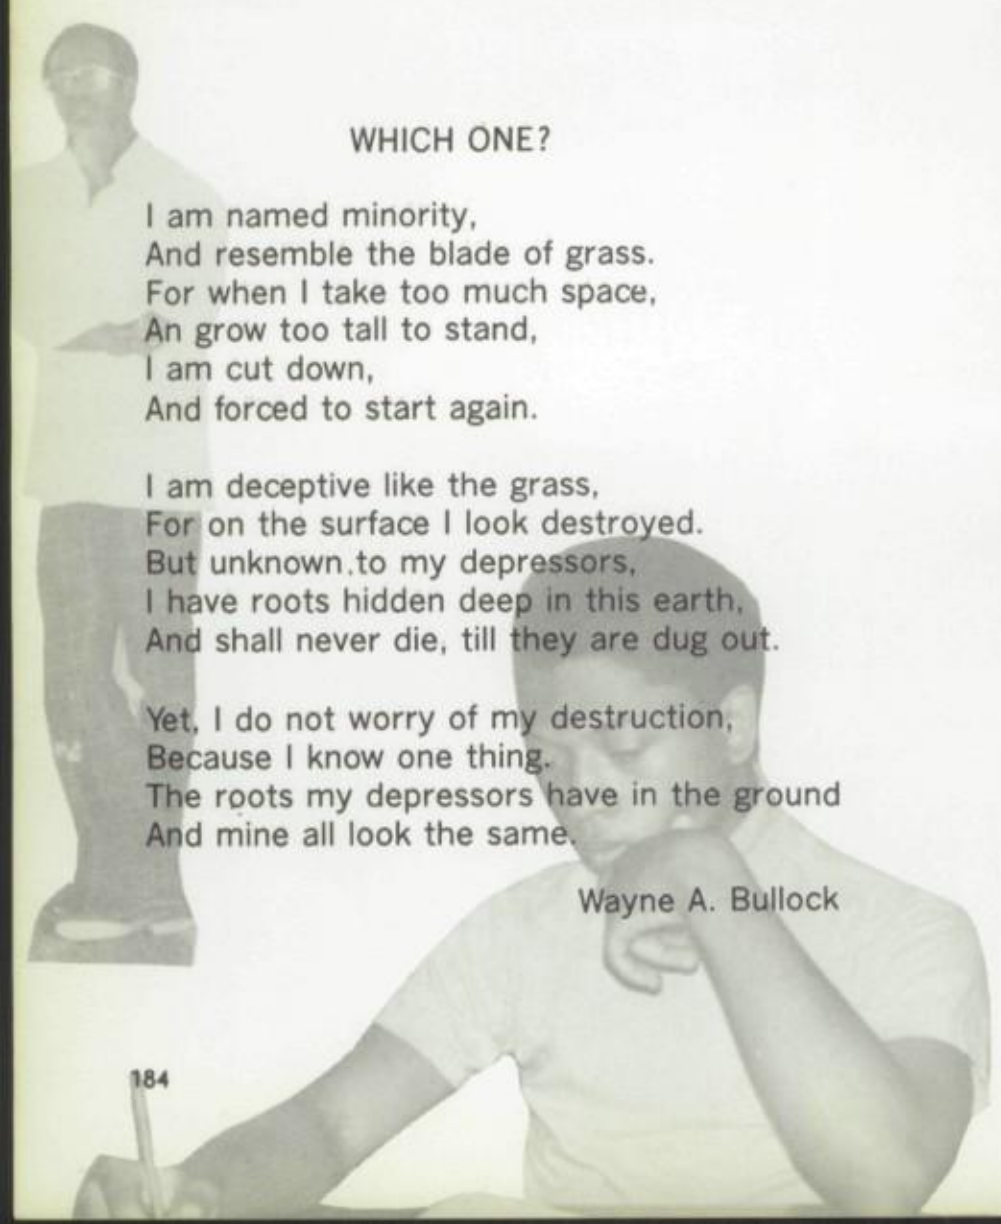
Michael Scott



WHICH ONE?

I am named minority,
And resemble the blade of grass.
For when I take too much space,
An grow too tall to stand,
I am cut down,
And forced to start again.

I am deceptive like the grass,
For on the surface I look destroyed.
But unknown to my depressors,
I have roots hidden deep in this earth,
And shall never die, till they are dug out.

Yet, I do not worry of my destruction,
Because I know one thing.
The roots my depressors have in the ground
And mine all look the same.

Wayne A. Bullock

Poems

YOU

You are like a flower
Blooming in June
Old to life
New to me
A beautiful sight, for all to see

Youlanda Sykes

TO FORGET

To forget her kiss
To forget her face
To forget her warm, tender embrace
To forget the times we always shared
To forget she is gone
To forget, yes, how I cared
To forget her whims, her wants, all anew
To forget how I loved her, oh so true
To forget the way we used to talk
In the park: we would often walk.
To forget her beauty, it shined so bright
To forget her comfort I received at night
To forget how lonely I'll always be
To forget there is much I'll never again see
To forget what life is all about
To forget never again, will I sing or shout
To forget that forever and a day I will cry
To forget my one love I think I'll die
To forget ...

Stephen C. Johnson

"IN MEMORY OF YOU"

If ever again our paths should meet,
I know I will be glad,
for never shall I remember, the things that made us sad.
Our lives were once one life, and our hearts were also one,
but now my love we've separated but still we did have fun.
So if we ever meet again, remember only this,
we left each other's life that day, and you, my love, I miss!

Delphine Matthews

"I AM ME"

I am ME
I have my own feelings complete with a unique personality
I, myself make up my mind decisions about life and whether to grin or smile
My morwl values set me straight about the right and the wrong
they decide my fate
Society plays its role in my life but I don't let it bring on trouble and strife mold and bend, just like clay that's what I hear, that's what they say
I know not of what was said for I only go by what I think in my head
Although, I'm open for new suggestions
I look for the logic and that's followed by a question
I am influenced, not very much
Because I do the influencing, that's my trade mark
Some people like the way I am
While others don't but being myself is important to me because I know inside
I'm really free

The Legacy is finished
But not the Dream-
Into it has gone the essence and soul of all of King's spirit
The working together . . .
The striving for excellence . . .
The concern for ultimate perfection in artistic detail . . .
Sensitivity of phrasing in conveying meaning . . .
The tireless effort.
The beauty, and frustration of King Seniors' spontaneity . . .
Creativity . . . innate artistry.
An attempt to give a portrait of the Seniors
Individually and collectively
And the Memories . . . at King
Four Years . . . unmatched
Never to be recaptured
To leave behind
A legacy of love . . . of aspiration of effort
To leave behind
A legacy of a dream.

I have the audacity to believe that peoples everywhere can have three meals a day for their tired bodies, education and culture for their minds, and dignity, equality and freedom for their spirits. I believe that what self-centered men have torn down, men other-centered can build up. I still believe that one day mankind will bow before the altars of God and be crowned triumphant over war and bloodshed, and nonviolent redemptive goodwill will proclaim the rule of the land. "And the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and every man shall sit under his own vine and fig tree and none shall be afraid." I still believe that we shall overcome.
